Re: Additional Funding for Shooting Range Grant

Due to a change in project status for previously awarded grant funds, Colorado Parks and Wildlife is uniquely positioned to reevaluate previously awarded grants with an opportunity to add additional funds. The award to Douglas County for the Turkey Tracks project has been identified as a high-quality project that will positively impact the recreational shooting opportunity in the Front Range of Colorado.

Colorado Parks and Wildlife would like to amend the 2022 grant award amount from $109,987 to $300,000. With Douglas County's match, the total project cost will now be $400,000.

We appreciate your team's willingness to expand their scope and work to help CPW best utilize available funds.
